Drayton Valley Community Kindergarten

Drayton Valley Community Kindergarten has carried on with a full enrollment since they got started last September. Classes are held in the church hall of the United Church, five days a week, Monday through Friday, from 10:00 till 3:00 pm. The school will run until next May. Five year olds are enrolled in the Kindergarten which is set up with the idea of preparing the youngsters to enter elementary school when they are six. The school set up is such a way that youngsters can start or leave at anytime in the term. Some will go straight through for the whole term, others will only take part of the term. Top enrollment for the Kindergarten is twenty-five, a number which has been maintained since it started last fall. Anyone who would like to enroll their five year olds may do so and as space permits they will be taken in. Cost is a very nominal $12.00 per month, with everything provided for the child during the time they are at the kindergarten class.

A Kindergarten Board has been set up, with Mr. Ken McKay, assistant principal at the Elementary School filling the position of chairman. Mrs. Nancy Larbender is secretary-treasurer. Members are Mrs. Marion McKenzie, Mrs. Claire Campbell, and Mrs. Molly Whelan. The Kindergarten is not affiliated with any church; the group rent the church hall from the United Church to hold the classes.

Drayton Valley Community Kindergarten teachers, Mrs. Lil Rose, principal, Mrs. Mary Bellward and Mrs. Shirley Tolchard. Mrs. Tolchard started the Kindergarten, with Mrs. Rose, then she resigned to take a position with the Conservation Board the first of December, and Mrs. Bellward filled her place.

Principal of the Kindergarten is Mrs. Lilian Rose, who taught in the Drayton Valley Elementary school for three years. Assisting Mrs. Rose is Mrs. Mary Bellward, Mrs. Shirley Tolchard. Mrs. Bellward took her place. The two teachers take the classes on alternating days. The kindergarten is set up with a very interesting and varied program for the youngsters. They play games, do arts and crafts, have a storytime, etc. Among the projects they take is a coloring program "Before We Read" to prepare them for Grade 1. A very popular time, with the mothers, of course, is "Snack" time, when they are served Koolaid and cookies. Reports cards are sent home with the children the same as in a regular school class. At Christmas time the children put on a concert. They also participated in a "Santa Claus" event. (Cont. on page 2, Col. 3)

District Personalities

MR. TONY CHEW

This week's personality is Mr. Tony Chew, who is working with his father, the well-known proprietor of the Hotel Coffee Shop, June Chew.

From Hong Kong Mrs. Chew and Tony took the C.P.A. flight, setting down in Tokio for four hours and then in Alaska they set down for an hour then on to Vancouver, where Tony met his father for the first time. Tony's flying time for the long trip was twenty-three hours. In Vancouver Tony also met his older brother who had come to Canada several years before.

Before the heads took over China Tony had an English teacher, but after they took over the country all foreign teachers except Russian were expelled from the country. Tony went to school for a while in Hong Kong to improve his English. He hopes to go back to school, at least to make up the rest of his English, in the near future. Tony met Drayton Valley very much, and of course he is very happy to be in Canada, with his father and mother.

He explained the purpose and the operation of a credit union to the group. He said that there are 385 Credit Unions in Alberta, with some 80,000 members and over 30 millions of dollars in assets.

An interim secretary was chosen, Mrs. Ray Hinchey, to take the record of the organizational meeting which followed. Eleven persons came forward to sign the charter as members to get the credit union underway.

Mr. Alsin said that the charter would be mailed up to the immediately next of an announcement would be made as to the date of the next meeting of the group. At this time officers will be elected to serve for the coming year.

D.V. Highlights
By: Edith Daby

Our M.L.A., Mr. Wood, spent several days in the district last week. Many people came to her with their problems. Mrs. Wood met people in Drayton Valley, Violet Grove, Lodgepole and Cypress. On Thursday she attended the Commission Meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Angerer's little boy was in hospital here last week. The Angerers now live in Whitcroft.

Mr. Wilshire, Supervisor of Libraries for Alberta, met with the library board last Thursday night. The main topic of conversation was the advantage of changing our community library to a municipal library.

Members of the library board will circulate a petition to get the opinion of ratepayers at a preliminary meeting on the changing the library status from a community to a municipal library.

Assisting the Chief Librarian are six volunteer librarians who serve at various times each week serving the library during the days, and some during the evenings. They are: Mrs. Fred Cull, Mrs. Norman Butler, Mrs. J.T. Daby, Mrs. Doreen Elley, Mrs. V. Moerkie and Mrs. Ray Clomont.

Asked how long the huge badge of Mount Rushmore would last, sculptor Gutzon Borglum replied, "When I heard that the granite would last for 10,000 years, I was awestruck. Nobody would think of it and it will give him another million years!"

Victims to our town of ten remark on the size and number of bands of roving dogs tolerated in our town. No less a percentage than our police chief had the presence of one of these dogs brought forcibly to his attention when he was bitten while proceeding along a public sidewalk onto his own business.

Now Stewart came home from Toronto, B.C. for a short visit with his parents last week end.

SECRETARY-TREASURER OF THE Stony Plain SCHOOL DIVISION No. 23
Stony Plain, ALBERTA

By Bert C. Lowe,
District Agriculturalist.
SPECIAL FEEDING PROBLEMS Sickness, underfeeding, and death losses among livestock may be caused by toxic substances in the feed or drinking water. The amount of toxic material that will cause death varies considerably with the class of live stock and their condition. In general, the animal can tolerate less toxic material than well-fed animals.
Where sickness, underfeeding, or death losses do occur a veterinary should be consulted.
The following includes the most commonly occurring problems in Alberta.

EGGROT
Grain containing more than one egg body per thousand kernels is potentially harmful. The amount of egg in grain can be reduced by putting it through a cleaning mill or by mixing it with non-egg body grain. Eggs infected hay or pasture also is dangerous.

MOLLY, URATED AND FIRE-DAMAGED GRAIN
These are less palatable and of lower feeding value than normal grain but are usually not harmful to live stock. Because of their lack of palatability they are not suitable feeds for heavy feeding. Molly or heated grain is usually less palatable to stock, and of lower feed value but is seldom toxic. (See severe cotton disease.) Wood, nail contaminated grain should be removed from fire-damaged grain before grinding or feeding it.

SMUTTY, MOTTLED, SPOTTED,
AND FROZEN GRAIN
These are of lower bushel weight than undamaged grain. Weight of grain required per pound of gain will increase about 2% for each decrease in one pound per bushel. They are not toxic to live stock with the exception of flax and are unlikely to be palatable as undamaged grain.

TREATED SEED GRAIN GRAIN treated with fungicides or insecticides should not be fed to live stock as many of these chemicals are very toxic. Many of the toxic ingredients are methyl "accumulating" poisons, a small amount may be fed safely but the poison accumulates and may poison the animal.

NITRATE FERTILIZER (not urea)
The Alberta Advisory Fertilizer Committee recently issued a statement to the effect that there is little or no risk of nitrate poisoning involved in the use of nitrogenous fertilizers at recommended rates. There is danger, however, if fertilizer is applied by livestock.

This results from use of feeds high in nitrate content. Among the conditions that may cause these high nitrate levels are drought, frost, lack of sunlight, poor and crowded growing conditions, weeds with a high nitrate content such as sorghum, pigweed, lambquarters and pol-lar, local conditions of temperature and humidity during curing or storage, and high nitrate levels in the soil. These conditions may occur whether or not nitrogenous fertilizers have been used.

The Chapel Hour The Master's Ten Laws of Human Relations

By Wilfred A. Peterson TAKEN FROM "GOOD BUSINESS"
PART 2

8. "And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant."
THESE twelve words express the ideal of leadership in modern times. Not the great dictator type, the great servant is the symbol of the leader. Such a philosophy of leadership involves not so much a sense of power as a sense of obligation. Such a leader does not hold people down.
He lifts them up. He does not repress people; he endeavors to express their wishes, purposes, aims. He does not tear men down; he builds them up. He seeks out their undeveloped capacities and helps men and women to grow and expand their personalities.

A business leader today must also be a man builder. He discusses himself in others. He serves his employees by helping them to succeed. In doing this he also best serves his business, helping it to grow.
He realizes that many big men in a business make a stronger man than a business itself.
Only one big man at the head of it. Employees are jewels to be polished.

The totalitarian concept of leadership considers the people the slaves of the State. The great servant concept considers the people as the ones to be served.
The top executive of a business should think of himself as a servant of employees, customers, and stockholders. He is working for them. It is his measure that he wins their loyalty and devotion he will create a spirit of teamwork and harmony and lead the business along the road to true prosperity and success.

9. "But if you forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses."
I talked with an executive recently who is intensely interested in his business. He has been trained in the management of his business. He has done well. But he has found that they have walked roughed over him and taken advantage of him. He has tried to gain their ends. He is wondering how to revenge. He intends to get that revenge as soon as opportunity knocks on his door.

The future of industry depends in large measure upon executives' being big enough, great enough, and noble enough to forgive and forget. To wipe the slate clean of malice, intolerance, and bitterness. Now as never before in the history of industrial America the threat of industrial leaders will rise to the occasion. They will meet the challenge of the future and great enough to turn from the misunderstandings of present day and walk gallantly into the future.

10. "Stretch forth thy hand." When Jesus healed the withered hand of the man in the synagogue, he commanded, "Stretch forth thy hand." And the hand was restored. It seems to me that the command of Jesus to this generation might well be summed up in those words. They radiate the spirit of Christianity, dynamism in action, action in dynamism. "Stretch forth thy hand." Stretch forth in friendship, in charity, in good will, in friendship. Stretch forth your hands to the Negro. Stretch forth your hands to management. White men, stretch forth to your hand to the Negro. The open, outstretched hand harbors no knife of hate. It is the universal symbol of peace, harmony, cooperation.

Don't wait for the other person to step forward and stretch out his hand to you first. You start the Negro. Stretch forth your hand to the Negro. The open, outstretched hand harbors no knife
symbol of peace, harmony, cooperation.

Don't wait for the other person conscience "and seventy times seven" times. That is how often and how often: 1.

That is something to show at for both labor and management.
Only if one is sure enough to forgive shall we be saved.

9. "Every city or house divided against itself shall not stand." When labor and management do this, the conference table God should be on both sides of the table. With God on both sides of the table only the decisions will be made which are for the mutual good of management and labor.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS
Mr. Leonard Anderson, a probation officer with the Provincial Government in Edmonton, was the speaker at First Baptist a week ago Sunday. One of the most interesting observations that he made was that he did not have in his caseload any person who has actively participated in a Sunday School. Most of the cases involved very little connection with any church. This certainly is a plug for those faithful teachers in our Sunday schools who are trying to present the principles of Christianity to the lives of their pupils.

On Sunday evening, the Pastor will answer a question that has been asked in Drayton Valley, and which he heard in a previous one. After all, how can we be sure?

RECREATION GRANT FOR DRAYTON VALLEY FRINGS AREA.

It has recently been brought to the attention of the residents of the Drayton Valley Community who live just beyond and roughly within one half mile of the Town boundaries that that area is rated as a hamlet insofar as recreational grants are concerned.

As there were an estimated 277 people living in that area in 1960 the five year of the five year plan, a possible sum of $75,000 could be obtained to develop recreational facilities.

An $10 grant must be used before the end of 1968 it is evident that money should be taken soon to secure this governmental aid.

There are stipulations as to the manner in which the money is to be spent, therefore, a plan of the project should be submitted in the near future.

In some places the residents have agreed to turn the grant over to the adjoining town, but this must be agreed by the people entitled to the appropriation.

Article 3 DON'T HIDE YOUR CAMERA AT NIGHT

Are you in an experimental mood? Then try your hand at night photography. It's a good idea to shield the camera lens from the direct rays of a street lamp or other light. Otherwise the lamp will register too strongly on the film. Place the camera so that the light comes from behind the camera or from the side, or keep a tree trunk or other object between the light and the camera.

Pedestrians will not register on the film unless they are lit by camera lights which appear as white streaks which you may find attractive or undesirable. If you wish to avoid headlights, shield the camera lens with your hand while you are passing.

Remember that exposures vary widely with the amount of light and the subject. Show reflects street lights. But you'll have to experiment. Try a variety of exposures for each subject—one of 10 seconds, another at one minute, and a third of two minutes. After shooting a test roll of film, you'll take your next batch of night photos with more confidence.

Even your first night-time photos can be impressive. And the more you experiment, the more fun you'll have.

YOUR M.P. REPORTS

Besides counting some additional $200 million dollars, this too would require a constitutional amendment with provincial agreement.

To give you some idea of the amount expended on civil pensions in Alberta by the Federal Government, the figures at March 1960 were as follows:

Old Age Security 70 and over paid 100% by Federal Government Fed. Share - $38,719.

Old Age Assistance 65-69 paid 50% by Federal Government Fed. Share - $1,065,102.

Disabled persons paid 50% by Federal Government Fed. Share - $38,719.

Blind Persons paid 75% by Federal Government Fed. Share - $23,872.

Disability pensions, Social Assistance supplementary payments - 15,960 pensioners, Fed. Share - $2,071,493.

This is a total includes the additional $15.00 supplement any payments made by the province to old age pensioners on a means test in both the old age assistance ($6 - 69 age group) and the old age security (70 and over) groups.

When one adds the veterans disability pensions and the war veterans allowances payments of close to 20 million dollars, the total is in the neighbourhood of 60 million dollars of Federal payments to residents of Alberta. This represents an investment of over 10% of the Prime Minister's Department's total over the return of Government and doesn't include the recent announced additional increase.

can one really know whether or not he is going to heaven until he is dead? An honest question deserves an honest answer. The answer is taken directly from the Bible. Those who are troubled with thoughts on these subjects are especially invited to attend.
